- be the second-highest ranked win in program history, behind only a 62-56 victory then-No. 3 Princeton (eventual Final Four participant led by Bill Bradley) on Feb. 18, 1967.
- be the Big Red's first win ever over an active member of the Big 12 Conference and its first win over a current member since Dec. 27, 1969 when it topped BYU 68-62 in the first round of the Quaker City Tournament in Philadelphia.
- improve Cornell to 6-12 all-time vs. current members of the Big 12.
- be Cornell's first win in a guarantee game since topping Duquesne 78-71 on Nov. 27, 2017 (snapping a 15-game skid in guarantee contests).

Dec. 29, 2023
Ithaca, N.Y.

LAST TIME OUT

- The Big Red scored the game's first 19 points and led wire-to-wire against four-time defending Patriot League champion Colgate, knocking off its Central New York rival 77-64 at Newman Arena.
- Cornell shot 54 percent from the floor overall and assisted on 19 baskets while collecting 12 steals in the victory.
- The Big Red held big advantages in paint points (46-28), points off turnovers (25-12), bench points (33-24) and fastbreak points (21-12).

- Sean Hansen's 15 points led four double figure scorers, with Chris Manon adding 14 points, four assists, four steals and three rebounds.
- Guy Ragland Jr. (12 points, four rebounds) and Nazir Williams (11 points, four rebounds, three assists) also reached double figures.
- Isaiah Gray set the tone early and finished with six points, eight assists, five steals, three rebounds and a blocked shot before fouling out in the second half.
- Braden Smith led Colgate with 12 points, five assists and four rebounds, while Ryan Moffatt netted 11 points and four boards.

- Senior Chris Manon has 139 steals in 65 career games, or 2.14 steals per game, ahead of Wallace Prather's school record average of 1.89. Manon is challenging the record despite averaging just 19.2 minutes per game for his career.
- Manon had 63 steals in 2022-23, surpassing a two-decades old single-season school record 54 set by DeShawn Standard (1997-98) and matched by Wallace Prather (2001-02).
- In his 18 minutes of action against Fordham this season, Manon was +24 and finished with a line of 14-4-3 with three steals.
- Manon's .528 career field goal percentage ranks seventh all-time at Cornell among players with at least 400 shot attempts.
- The reigning Ivy League Player of the Week is averaging 17.0 points, 4.5 rebounds, 4.0 assists and 4.5 steals over his past two contests while shooting .722 from the floor (13-of-18).
- Senior Isaiah Gray is shooting .671 from inside the 3-point arc this season (43-of-64).
- Over the team's past three games, Gray is averaging 3.7 steals per game.
- The Big Red's two-headed center of Sean Hansen and Guy Ragland Jr. combined to average 18.1 points, 9.1 rebounds, 4.4 assists, 1.4 steals and 0.8 blocks while playing 40.8 minutes per game in 2022-23.
- The duo is even better this season, averaging 20.7 points, 8.9 rebounds, 3.6 assists and 1.4 steals in 38.8 minutes per game while shooting 52 percent from the floor and 35 percent from 3-point range.
- Both Manon and Hansen are looking to join a select group of 10 Big Red players to record at least 500 points, 250 rebounds, 100 assists, 25 blocked shots and 25 steals in their careers. Manon is just seven rebounds away, while Hansen needs 20 rebounds and one blocked shot. Two of those 10 Big Red players to reach those marks have played for head coach Brian Earl (Matt Morgan '19 and Josh Warren '20).
- With his double-double in last year's win over Ithaca, Ragland became just the sixth player in school history with multiple double-double efforts off the bench (Stan Brown, Mike Millane, Bernard Jackson, Brian Kopf and Jeff Foote) in a career.
- Senior Keller Boothby has multiple 3-pointers made in seven of his past nine games, shooting 18-of-38 (.474) over that stretch.
- Boothby shot .478 (22-of-46) from 3-point range in Ivy play last year.
- In 13 home games in 2022-23, Boothby had 11 assists and one turnover in 245 minutes of play.
- Boothby's 2.41 career assist-turnover ratio is the highest in program history for a non-guard (53 assists/22 turnovers).
- Sophomore AK Okereke is shooting 67 percent from the floor (32-of-48). The former walk-on had a streak of 10 consecutive made field goals over the first three games of 2023-24, tied for the fifth-longest streak in school history (record is 14 by Darryl Smith in 2015-16).
- Freshman Jacob Beccles scored 15 points in his collegiate debut, the most by a Big Red rookie in his first game since Chris Manon netted 17 points in a win over Binghamton to kick off the 2021-22 season.

TEAM NOTES TO KNOW:

- Since its return from COVID, Cornell men's basketball has posted a 42-24 record (.636), a mark that is 42-16 when removing guarantee games (.724).
- Over the past three seasons, the Big Red is averaging 17.6 assists per game and hitting 10.1 3-pointers per game while averaging 81.2 points per game.
- Cornell led the Ivy League in 11 categories in 2022-23, including scoring offense (81.7), 3-pointers made (10.7) and attempted (30.4) per game, assists (17.5), assist:turnover ratio (1.41), steals (9.7), effective field goal percentage (.556) and fastbreak points (15.9), while ranking in the top 10 nationally in scoring offense, assists, bench points, fastbreak points, steals and 3-pointers made and attempted.

- The Big Red had its streak of 23 consecutive non-conference wins against opponents from conferences other than the ACC or Big Ten dating back to an 80-76 loss at Hartford on Dec. 22, 2019 snapped at George Mason — a streak that spanned 1,424 days.
- Over its past six contests, the Big Red is shooting .681 (130-of-191) from inside the 3-point arc.
- At the same time, Cornell has now won 29 straight non-guarantee non-conference games dating back to that same loss to Hartford.
- Cornell has hit double figures in 3-pointers five times this season, with season highs of 14 vs. SUNY Morrisville and George Mason.
- In its past eight games, Cornell is shooting just .299 (67-of-224) from beyond the arc after connecting at a .414 clip over its first four contests (46-of-111).
- Division I opponents are shooting just 31 percent from 3-point range this season (94-of-301).
- Of the 30 100-point games for the Big Red in school history, head coach Brian Earl has been at the helm for nine of them, including for five of the top 10 totals.
- Earl's teams also have seven of the top 10 single-game assist totals and six of the top 10 made 3-point field goal totals.
- The Big Red was placed third in the Ivy League Preseason Media Poll, its highest preseason selection since also being chosen third in the 2010-11 poll
- Despite playing at the fastest pace in the Ancient Eight, Cornell's 12.4 turnovers per game was the second-lowest average in the league a year ago.
- Cornell is 24-4 at home over the past three seasons, including a perfect 14-0 against non-conference opponents over that span.
- Cornell has hit a 3-pointer in 951 consecutive games dating back to a contest against Denison in the 1988-89 season opener (0-for-2). Since the 3-point shot came into effect in NCAA play during the 1986-87 season, the Big Red has hit at least one shot behind the arc in 996 of 1,000 games (6,761 3-pointers over that span).
- Graduated seniors Greg Dolan '23 (Loyola Chicago) and Marcus Filien (UAlbany) have moved on to play as graduate transfers at other Division I institutions (Ivy League does not allow graduate student eligibility).
- Over the past three seasons, nine grad transfers have gone on to play Division I basketball elsewhere — Jimmy Boeheim (Syracuse), Kobe Dickson (Howard), Bryan Knapp (George Washington), Terrance McBride (Rice), Dean Noll (Stony Brook), Sarju Patel (UAlbany) and Riley Voss (Wright State).
- Current seniors Darius Ervin, Isaiah Gray, Sean Hansen, Chris Manon and Evan Williams are currently in the portal for 2024-25.

MISCELLANEOUS TEAM NOTES

- Associate head coach Jon Jaques was a starter and senior captain on the 2009-10 Cornell team that advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16.
- Cornell has played in 47 different states, as well as in Cuba, Puerto Rico, Australia, France and Spain. The only states the Big Red has not played in are Alaska, North Dakota and Mississippi.
- The Big Red continues to be ranked among the best according to the annual NCAA Division I Academic Progress Report (APR). The APR measures semester-by-semester records for every individual team in Division I with regard to each team members' continuing eligibility, retention and progress toward graduation. The NCAA "commends" teams that have APR scores in the top 10 percent within their sport. Cornell has been recognized 10 times in since the APR began in 2005, including seven consecutive (2009-16).

ARE CORNELL STUDENT-ATHLETES ON SCHOLARSHIP?

- The easy answer is no. Cornell student-athletes are awarded need-based financial aid, just as any other student who applies to the school - that package can come in the form of student loans and grants.
- The basic intent of the original Ivy League agreement of 1954 was to improve and foster intercollegiate athletics while keeping the emphasis on such competition in harmony with the educational purpose of the institutions.
- The Ivy League is nationally recognized for its level of success — absent of athletic scholarships — while rigorously maintaining its self-imposed high academic standards.
- The Ivy League has demonstrated a rare willingness and ability, given the current national pressures on intercollegiate success, to abide by these rules and still compete successfully in Division I athletics.

BIG RED BASKETBALL HISTORY

With nearly 125 years of basketball to call upon, the Big Red has an incredibly storied history on the college hardwood. Cornellians have been successful in the NBA (both on the hardwood and in the board room) and have often challenged the best teams in the country.

From Cornell Hall of Famers Howard Ortner and Sam MacNeil to Albert Sharpe, Royner Greene, Steve Donahue and now Brian Earl, Big Red coaches have routinely put their teams in positions to compete for championships, claiming eight EIBL or Ivy League titles. Most recently, three consecutive Ancient Eight crowns, including an NCAA Sweet 16 appearance in 2009-10 and an appearance in the 2019 CIT, show that the Big Red continues to rewrite history.

Five NCAA Tournament appearances. More than 1,200 wins. NBA players and dozens of professional basketball players around the globe. From being a charter member of the first basketball conference in the college game (Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League), to now being a part of the oldest and most stable athletic grouping (Ivy League), Big Red basketball has played an important role in the history of college basketball.

Basketball first appeared at Cornell in 1892, and a club was formed in 1898 after with J.S. Hills as elected manager and R.F. Ludwig named captain. For the first three years it was not officially recognized by the Athletic Council, and consequently could not use the name Cornell. In 1901, however, the team was granted the rights to use the Cornell name. It's name has been stitched on the front of jerseys ever since, and Cornellians have been instrumental in the growth of the college, professional and international games.

Ed Steitz '43, a member of the Basketball and FIBA Basketball Halls of Fame, was the original founder and president of Amateur Basketball Association of the United States of America (ABAUSA), now USA Basketball. He served for more than 25 years as secretary, editor and national interpreter of the NCAA Men's Basketball Rules Committee, authoring more than 90 books and 300 articles on basketball and its rules. He was instrumental in the reinstatement of the dunk in 1976 and was an advocate of the 45-second shot clock and 3-point shot. Steitz also helped establish the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. while serving as head basketball coach and athletic director at Springfield College.

Nat Militzok was the first Cornellian to play in the NBA, and may have been the first player from any school to step on an NBA court. He had the honor of playing in what is considered the first NBA game for the Knicks against the Huskies in Toronto on Nov. 1, 1946 and was credited with the first assist in league history.

Cornell has played games in 47 states (only Alaska, North Dakota and Mississippi are holdouts), as well as in Australia, Belgium, Cuba, Denmark, France, Germany, Puerto Rico, Spain and Sweden. The Big Red has suited up against the Canadian national champions and national teams from countries spanning from Great Britain to Egypt to Luxembourg, all the while representing one of the world's most fabled Universities.

Characters abound in Big Red lore, from diminutive 5-6 All-American Chuck Rolles to 7-0 local star Jeff Foote, Cornell's most recent NBA player. Matt Morgan, Ryan Wittman and John Bajusz, the top three scorers in school history, are well-regarded as among the finest shooters to ever grace the Ivy League courts. Standouts like Lee Morton, Ken Bantum and Louis Dale have been honored as the top player in the conference, and nine have garnered a total of 10 All-America honors. Twelve have been drafted into the NBA and five have garnered coveted spots on the Academic All-America team, showing the balance of athletics and academics the Ivy League prides itself in.

Away from the court, Cornellians have been surgeons and architects, engineers and professors. They've tackled Wall Street, coached future generations of basketball players and served their communities in every way possible - just like tens of thousands of their classmates and fellow alumni.
