IN MEMORANDUM: TOMMY MCVAY

Texas Tech Athletics suffered a deep loss prior to the 2020 season with the passing of longtime Director of Football Operations Tommy McVay. The Red Raiders will wear a helmet sticker in all 10 games this year to honor the late McVay, who passed suddenly on Aug. 13 at the age of 76.

McVay was always a familiar face on the Red Raider sidelines where he spent 23 full seasons under five different head coaches. He was among the first hires for head coach Matt Wells shortly after he touched down in Lubbock for the first time. McVay was responsible for Texas Tech landing future Red Raider standout and NFL great Wes Welker during his career as he convinced then head coach Mike Leach to use the program's last scholarship on the relatively-unknown recruit out of McVay's native Oklahoma. McVay was a standout basketball and track and field athlete at Southeastern Oklahoma State where he was inducted into its Hall of Fame in 2009. He was honored for his work locally in 2017 when the Texas Tech chapter of the National Football Foundation presented him the award for outstanding contribution to amateur football at its annual banquet.

SATURDAY STORYLINES

TECH RETURNS HOME TO FACE BAYLOR

- Baylor will make its first trip to Jones AT&T Stadium since 2008 on Saturday when the Red Raiders look to snap a two-game losing skid against the Bears. Texas Tech has won nine-straight games against the Bears at Jones AT&T Stadium, including all seven during the Big 12 era.
- This weekend's matchup reunites Matt Wells and Baylor head coach Dave Aranda as the two previously worked together at Utah State in 2012. Aranda was the Aggies' defensive coordinator that season opposite of Wells, who was the offensive coordinator and was eventually promoted to head coach of his alma mater.

AND THE ANSWER IS...

- Erik Ezukanma has been the answer when Texas Tech has needed it most this season as the sophomore currently ranks second in the Big 12 with 490 receiving yards this season. He found the end zone on a 57-yard scoring strike last weekend against TCU, marking the longest reception of his still young career and his fourth touchdown already this season.
- Ezukanma, who led the Red Raiders in receiving yards as only a redshirt freshman a year ago, is looking to become the first Red Raider to lead Tech in receiving yards in back-to-back seasons since current Miami Dolphins standout Jakeem Grant did so over the 2014-15 campaigns.

THOMPSON LOOKING FOR REPEAT OF 2019

- SaRodorick Thompson will look to repeat his performance against Baylor from a year ago this weekend as the sophomore totaled a career-high 153 rushing yards, while rushing for two touchdowns against the Bears. It matched the most rushing yards by a Red Raider against Baylor dating back to 2000 as Ricky Williams also recorded the same total in a 2001 win over the Bears.
- Despite battling injuries the past few weeks, Thompson remains among the Big 12's rushing leaders as he is fourth with six rushing touchdowns, fifth with 391 rushing yards and sixth in rushing yards per game (55.9).

SERIES HISTORY

■ Texas Tech and Baylor will meet for the 79th time this weekend in a back-and-forth series that has the Bears leading 39-38-1 all-time entering this weekend. Baylor took the series lead a year ago with a 33-30 victory in double overtime.

■ The two schools are in their second year of returning the Texas Farm Bureau Shoot back to campus sites after playing the previous 10 meetings in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex. The Red Raiders were only 4-6 against the Bears during that span but are 17-7 over the course of the Big 12 era.

■ This will be Baylor's first trip to Jones AT&T Stadium since 2008 as the Red Raiders have won nine-straight against the Bears in Lubbock, including all seven games during the Big 12 era. Texas Tech topped Baylor, 35-28, in the last meeting in Lubbock, which led to an appearance in the Cotton Bowl. It was also part of a 15-game winning streak over the Bears from 1996-2011.

■ Over the past 10 meetings, both teams are averaging over 35 points per game against each other as the Red Raiders and Bears have scored at least 30 points each in all but one of those games.

■ Texas Tech and Baylor boast one of the longest-running series in the Big 12 as the two schools have met annually since 1956 dating back to their time in the Southwest Conference. Baylor controlled a 19-17 advantage over the Red Raiders during their SWC tenure but immediately lost its next 15 games in the series upon entering the Big 12 in 1996.

TEXAS TECH-BAYLOR CONNECTIONS

■ The relationship between the two head coaches in Saturday's games dates back to their time together at Utah State as Baylor's Dave Aranda was the defensive coordinator opposite of Matt Wells as the Aggies' offensive coordinator in 2012. Aranda departed for Wisconsin the following season, while Wells was promoted to head coach of his alma mater.

■ Dave Aranda also has Texas Tech ties as he was a graduate assistant for the Red Raider defense from 2000-02, the first three seasons under Mike Leach. He earned his master's degree in interdisciplinary studies from the university in 2002.

■ Aranda accepted the Baylor job after helping lead LSU to the College Football Playoff national title. He was assisted on the LSU staff by current Texas Tech linebackers coach Kevin Cosgrove, who was a senior defensive analyst for the Tigers in 2019. Baylor defensive line coach Dennis Johnson and passing game coordinator Jorge Munoz were also analysts on the LSU staff that same season before accepting positions with the Bears.

■ Texas Tech running backs coach DeAndre Smith previously worked under Baylor offensive coordinator Larry Fedora when the latter was the head coach at North Carolina from 2012-18. Smith was the running backs coach for the Tar Heels in 2017 before departing the following season to join Matt Wells at Utah State.

■ Baylor quarterback Charlie Brewer is the younger brother of former Texas Tech signal caller Michael Brewer, who played two seasons with the Red Raiders (2012-13) before transferring to Virginia Tech to end his career. The Bears also boast defensive back Byron Hanspard Jr. on their roster, the son of Texas Tech Hall of Fame member and Doak Walker Award winner Byron Hanspard.

STAT NOTABLES vs. BAYLOR

■ Ja'Marcus Ingram recorded his first interception as a Red Raider and the second of his career a year ago against Baylor as he stepped in front of a Charlie Brewer pass in the end zone to give Texas Tech the ball down early in the fourth quarter down four points. Ingram added a tackle as well in the loss.

■ Riko Jeffers has 17 career tackles versus Baylor, including 1.5 that have come behind the line of scrimmage. Jeffers posted three tackles as a true freshman in 2017 and followed with eight in 2018 and then six a year ago. His 1.5 tackles for a loss against the Bears all came in 2018, one of which was a sack.

■ SaRodorick Thompson notched a career-high 153 yards on the ground against the Bears a year ago as the then-redshirt freshman found the end zone twice, both in the second half. It marked the first 100-yard game of his career and the first 150-yard performance by a Red Raider since Justin Stockton tallied 161 yards versus Kansas in 2017. In addition, his 153 rushing yards matched Ricky Williams' total from 2001 as the most by a Red Raider against Baylor dating back to the move to a spread offense in 2000. His 28 carries in the game, meanwhile, marked the most by a Red Raider versus the Bears in that span as Tre King (2017) is the only other running back to boast 20 or more attempts.

■ T.J. Vasher has hauled in 16 passes for 149 yards and two touchdowns over his career against Baylor as he enters this weekend having caught at least six passes in each of the past two meetings with the Bears. Vasher provided a key touchdown a year ago against Baylor as he dove to catch a fade pass to the back of the end zone to tie the game in the first overtime. His other touchdown against Baylor came in 2017 when Nic Shimonek found him on a five-yard scoring strike that gave the Red Raiders a 21-7 lead early in the second quarter.

■ On the Texas Tech staff, outside receivers coach Joel Filani recorded one of the best performances all-time against Baylor as he posted 212 receiving yards in the 2006 meeting between the two schools, still the most by a Red Raider over 78 meetings.

ON THIS DAY IN TEXAS TECH HISTORY

■ This will be the 10th time in history where the Red Raiders have played on Nov. 14 as the Red Raiders are an impressive 7-3 all-time on the date, including a perfect 4-0 at home. Texas Tech will be facing Baylor on Nov. 14 for only the second time in history as the two schools previously met in a 7-3 victory by the Red Raiders in 1970.

HOME SWEET HOME

- Texas Tech returns to the friendly confines of Jones AT&T Stadium this weekend where the Red Raiders are 2-2 this season and 103-49 over the course of the Big 12 era (.678 winning percentage). A win over Baylor would guarantee the Red Raiders at least a .500 record at home for the 22nd time in past 25 seasons.
- In that same time frame, the Red Raiders are 40-16 against non-ranked Big 12 opponents at home, which includes a 7-0 mark against Baylor. The Red Raiders are 1-0 in such games this season after edging West Virginia, 34-27, three weeks ago.
- Since moving to a spread offense in 2000, the Red Raiders have averaged 34.5 points per game at home as Texas Tech ranks sixth in total touchdowns (689) and eighth in total points (5,204) during that span. Tech has thrown for 49,971 yards at home, which trails only Hawaii's 50,577 passing yards during the same time period.

POTENT NOTABLES

- Texas Tech will aim for a strong finish to the month of November in order to advance to its 39th bowl appearance all-time and its first under Matt Wells. The month of November hasn't been too kind to Tech in recent years as Tech has won multiple games just twice since the start of the 2011 campaign (2015, 2017).
- Texas Tech's final three regular-season opponents - Baylor (1-4), Oklahoma State (5-1) and Kansas (0-7) - are a combined 6-12 this season entering this weekend. The Red Raiders have not won three-consecutive games to close a regular season since 1995 when Tech topped TCU, SMU and Houston en route to an Alamo Bowl appearance in its final year in the Southwest Conference.
- Texas Tech has committed only 47 penalties for 387 yards so far this season, an improvement on recent years where the Red Raiders were the most-penalized teams in the country. Through seven games, it marks the fewest penalty yards dating back to 2000, matching the same total from 2002.
- Texas Tech's victory over West Virginia snapped a six-game losing streak for the Red Raiders in Big 12 contests decided by a possession or less (8 points). The Red Raiders had not previously won a close game against a league foe since topping TCU, 17-14, midway through the 2018 season.
- Texas Tech and West Virginia entered the fourth quarter tied at 27-27 before a Zech McPhearson returned a fumble recovery 56 yards for a touchdown to seal the victory. It marked the first time the Red Raiders went to the fourth quarter tied with its opponent since Tech used overtime to edge TCU, 27-24, in 2016. It also marked the first win in Matt Wells' career when his team has been tied entering the final 15 minutes.
- Texas Tech is averaging 29.6 points per game so far this season, which ranks fifth in the Big 12. The Red Raiders have currently averaged at least 30 points per game over 20-consecutive seasons, which is the longest active streak in the Big 12.
- With its 169 passing yards against West Virginia, Texas Tech recorded its first win when throwing for less than 200 yards since the Red Raiders defeated New Mexico, 24-3, in the first game under Mike Leach in 2000. The victory marked only the 11th time since 2000 that the Red Raiders had failed to throw for at least 200 yards in a game.
- The Red Raiders have converted 41.2 percent of their third-down attempts so far this season, which ranks third in the Big 12 entering this weekend.
- Texas Tech finished with 169 passing yards and 179 rushing yards against West Virginia, marking the first time the Red Raiders rushed for more yards than through the air in a Big 12 win since their 65-19 rout over Kansas in 2017.
- The Red Raiders also totaled 39 carries to 28 pass attempts, marking the first time Texas Tech has won a game with more rushing than passing attempts in the Matt Wells era and for the first time since a 77-0 victory over Lamar in 2018.
- Texas Tech surrendered five sacks against TCU, a rare setback for a Red Raider offense that had entered the game among the national leaders in fewest sacks allowed. Tech has now allowed 12 sacks this season, which ranks 44th nationally on a per game basis and third in the Big 12. This despite the Red Raiders being among the most active teams annually through the air, all while incorporating two new starters in sophomore Ethan Carde and senior graduate transfer Josh Burger as well as regular in true freshman Caleb Rogers.

MAKING IT LOOK E-Z

- After emerging as Texas Tech's leading receiver a year ago, Erik Ezukanma has continued to be a threat through the air this season as he has caught 35 passes for 490 yards and four touchdowns. He leads the team in receiving yards entering this weekend and also ranks second overall in the Big 12.
- Ezukanma found the end zone for the fourth time this season against TCU as he hauled in a 57-yard touchdown strike from Henry Colombi early in the fourth quarter that was the longest of his career. It snapped a two-game skid where Ezukanma failed to score as he delivered Texas Tech's third reception of the season of 50 yards or longer and the second of the game after Ja'Lynn Polk streaked 60 yards for a touchdown.
- Ezukanma saw his five-game stretch of recording a touchdown catch come to an end at Kansas State as it was previously the longest streak for a Red Raider since current Houston Texans wide receiver Keke Coutee also caught a touchdown pass over five-consecutive games during the 2016-17 seasons. He found the end zone again versus Iowa State on an 18-yard scoring grab from Henry Colombi in the fourth quarter.
- The sophomore's four touchdown receptions already this season match his total from a year ago as he now has nine for his career, the second-highest total on the team, trailing only T.J. Vasher's 21 touchdown grabs.
- Ezukanma leads the Red Raiders with seven plays from scrimmage of 20 yards or longer as SaRodrick Thompson ranks second on the team with four of his own. No other Texas Tech receiver to this point has totaled more than two receptions of at least 20 yards yet alone seven like Ezukanma.
- Ezukanma emerged as one of Texas Tech's top receiving options midway through his 2019 redshirt freshman season as he combined on only eight catches for 75 yards over the first four games. Since then, he is averaging nearly that same amount per game as he is averaging 71.9 yards per game through the air over the past 15 contests.
- Ezukanma led the Red Raiders with 664 receiving yards as only a redshirt freshman a year ago, the majority of which that came during Big 12 play. He became the first Red Raider since two-time Biletnikoff Award winner Michael Crabtree in 2007 to lead the team in receiving yards as only a freshman.
- Ezukanma closed 2019 with his first career 100-yard outing at as he hauled in seven receptions for 135 yards against Texas. Over his past eight contests dating back to that game, Ezukanma has posted 42 catches for 625 yards and five touchdowns.

BIG 12 RECEIVING LEADERS BY TOTAL YARDS

Name (School)	Yards
1. Tylan Wallace (Oklahoma State)	588
2. Erik Ezukanma (Texas Tech)	490
3. Winston Wright Jr. (West Virginia)	447
4. Marvin Mims (Oklahoma)	418
5. Austin Stogner (Oklahoma)	410
6. Xavier Hutchinson (Iowa State)	407

HOW 'BOUT SOME POINTS ON DEFENSE?

- Texas Tech has made a knack for finding the end zone via its defense this season as the Red Raiders are tied for second in the FBS with three defensive touchdowns. The Red Raiders lead the Big 12 in the category and trail only Troy's four defensive touchdowns nationally.
- Matt Wells has been no stranger in seeing his defense put up points over his career as his teams have created 24 defensive touchdowns during his eight seasons as a collegiate head coach. This is the fifth year during that span where his team has recorded at least three defensive touchdowns in a season and the first time during his time at Texas Tech.
- Zech McPhearson has been the most frequent Red Raider finding the end zone as he scored on a 90-yard return off a blocked field goal at Iowa State and then scooped a loose fumble against West Virginia for a 56-yard touchdown return. McPhearson had another fumble recovery at Kansas State as he shares the Big 12 high entering this weekend.
- McPhearson's two fumble returns for a touchdown (the blocked field goal is credited as a fumble return) mark the most by a Red Raider since Paul McClendon set the Texas Tech single-season record with three in 2001.

COLOMBI PICKS UP WIN IN FIRST START

■ Henry Colombi pushed the Red Raiders to a victory in his first career start as the junior finished 22-of-28 for 169 passing yards and a touchdown, while also rushing 11 times for 40 yards and another score versus West Virginia. Colombi, who was tabbed Texas Tech's starting quarterback in the open week leading up to the West Virginia game, had previously appeared in 15 games over his career between Utah State and Texas Tech prior to his first start.

■ Colombi became the 16th Red Raider quarterback to make his first career start since 1999 and the eighth to make his first career start versus a Big 12 opponent. Texas Tech is now 7-1 in that time when its starting quarterback is making his first career start versus a Big 12 foe. Ironically, the lone loss came with Patrick Mahomes as the NFL MVP was injured early versus Texas in 2014.

RED RAIDERS QBs IN FIRST CAREER STARTS (SINCE 1999)

Henry Colombi	WVU (2020)	22-28, 169 yds., TD, rush TD

MORE ON COLOMBI...

■ Henry Colombi immediately boosted the depth in Texas Tech's quarterback room when he decided to transfer to Texas Tech in August following two seasons at Utah State. He was granted an NCAA waiver for immediate eligibility on Aug. 26.

■ Colombi's arrival not only provided Texas Tech with another quality arm but also one with a vast knowledge of the offensive scheme of coordinator David Yost. Colombi was recruited to Utah State by Matt Wells and his staff as he redshirted the 2017 campaign before appearing in 13 games the next two seasons as the primary backup to eventual NFL first round selection Jordan Love.

■ Colombi made his debut as a Red Raider at Kansas State as the junior replaced an injured Alan Bowman on Texas Tech's second offensive drive of the afternoon. Colombi helped lead the Red Raiders back from a 14-point halftime deficit with two touchdown passes in the second half before finishing 30-of-42 overall for 244 yards. He followed by completing 10-of-12 passes for 115 yards and a touchdown after entering the game late at Iowa State.

■ Accuracy has been a key theme for Colombi over his career as he completed 76.8 percent of his passes (53-of-69) at Utah State and then 66.2 percent of his attempts (100-of-151) so far as a Red Raider. Colombi completed his Utah State tenure with 460 yards and two touchdowns through the air, while also rushing for 139 yards and a pair of touchdowns off 27 carries. He has carried 46 times for 107 yards and a touchdown so far this season.

■ Colombi completed an impressive 78.5 percent of his passes against West Virginia, making for an impressive debut leading a Red Raider offense that was missing several of its leading receivers in KeSean Carter, T.J. Vasher and Dalton Rigdon.

■ Colombi threw for 227 yards and a pair of touchdowns versus Oklahoma, including a 75-yard strike to Travis Koontz midway through the second quarter. It marked the longest completion of his career and matched the longest play from scrimmage for the Red Raiders this season.

■ Colombi utilized the big play to perfection again against TCU as he found Ja'Lynn Polk on a 60-yard scoring strike in the third quarter and then Erik Ezukanma on a 57-yard touchdown early in the fourth quarter. Each of Texas Tech's three longest passing plays this season have come in the past two weeks against Oklahoma and then TCU.

Note: 2018-19 seasons were played at Utah State.

SUCCESSFUL QBs UNDER YOST

■ Henry Colombi will look to become the latest in a long line of successful quarterbacks under offensive coordinator David Yost, a list that includes the likes of Brad Smith, Chase Daniel and Blaine Gabbert at Missouri, Justin Herbert at Oregon and Jordan Love most recently at Utah State.

■ Yost has had three of his former quarterbacks selected in the first round of the NFL Draft as Gabbert went No. 10 overall in 2011, while Herbert heard his name called sixth this past April followed by Love at No. 26 overall. Daniel, meanwhile, is currently in his 12th NFL season as a member of the Detroit Lions.

■ Yost worked with Herbert when he was a true freshman at Oregon in 2016 and then Love from 2017-18 at Utah State. As a sophomore in 2018, Love threw for 3,567 yards and 32 touchdowns with only six interceptions en route to helping Utah State average 47.5 points per game, which ranked second nationally in the FBS.

YEAR TWO IN THE YOST OFFENSE

■ Texas Tech has long been known for its ability to annually produce one of the nation's top offenses, a feat it continued a year ago under a new offensive coordinator in David Yost. The Red Raiders ranked seventh nationally in passing yards per game (324.7) and 11th in total offense per game (474.3) but finished only 53rd in scoring offense with 30.5 points per game.

■ Since becoming Texas Tech's offensive coordinator, Yost as well as head coach Matt Wells have stressed the Red Raiders will find their most success beginning in year two in the offense, similar to what Utah State discovered in 2018. The Aggies went from averaging a similar 30.2 points per game in their first season under Yost in 2017 to posting an impressive 47.5 points per game in 2018, which ranked second nationally only behind Oklahoma.

■ Through five games this season, Texas Tech currently ranks 56th in the FBS for scoring offense as the Red Raiders are averaging 29.6 points per game. The Red Raiders are also 32nd for passing offense (272.7 yards per game) entering this weekend's game against Baylor.

STATISTICAL DIFFERENCES IN FIRST TWO YEARS UNDER YOST

Category	2017	2018	2019	2020
Total Offense	397.4 (73rd)	497.4 (11th)	474.3 (11th)	409.3

Scoring	30.2 (51st)	47.5 (2nd)	30.5 (53rd)	29.6

NOTEABLE NFL QUARTERBACKS UNDER DAVID YOST

CHASE DANIEL | MISSOURI

Daniel has experienced quite the professional career since playing for Yost at Missouri. A former undrafted free agent, the former Heisman Trophy finalist will enter his 12th season of NFL duty in 2020 after already appearing in 65 games over his pro career.

BLAINE GABBERT | MISSOURI

Gabbert followed a long line of successful Missouri quarterbacks under Yost as he was selected 10th overall in the 2011 NFL Draft. The 2020 campaign will mark Gabbert's 10th season at the pro level as he will enter his second year with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

JUSTIN HERBERT | OREGON

Yost spent one season as Herbert's quarterbacks coach as he became the first Oregon true freshman to start behind center since 1983. Herbert was later selected sixth overall in the 2020 NFL Draft by the Los Angeles Chargers organization.

JORDAN LOVE | UTAH STATE

Yost mentored Love into one of the nation's top quarterbacks over the 2017-18 seasons, setting numerous Utah State school records in the process. The Green Bay Packers later used the 26th overall pick to select Love in the 2020 NFL Draft.

INDIVIDUAL TIDBITS

- Zech McPhearson picked off his second pass of the season on TCU's opening drive last weekend as he is now responsible for four of Texas Tech's six takeaways this season. His other interception this season came in the season opener against Houston Baptist.
- McPhearson's interception to start the game marked the first time this season the Red Raiders created a takeaway on the game's opening drive. It marked the first time the Red Raiders had created a turnover on their opponent's opening drive since Douglas Coleman III also picked off a pass on the first play against Kansas a year ago.
- Speaking of McPhearson, he also shares the Big 12 lead with two fumble recoveries this season, which came in back-to-back games against Iowa State and West Virginia, the final one of which he returned 56 yards for a touchdown. That's not to mention the blocked field goal attempt he returned 90 yards for a touchdown against Iowa State. To date, McPhearson has been part of three of the Red Raiders' five blocked kicks during the Matt Wells era.
- Adam Beck recorded a career high with two tackles for a loss against TCU as he had a season-high four tackles, including his first career solo sack. The performance followed a similar strong showing against the Horned Frogs from 2019 when he posted a career-high 12 tackles.
- DaMarcus Fields currently leads the team with eight pass breakups despite missing the first two games of the season. Fields snapped a career-high with three pass breakups against West Virginia and then added two more versus TCU. His eight passes defended mark the most for a Red Raider through seven games since Terrance Bullitt had 10 early in the 2013 season.
- Texas Tech combined for three sacks against TCU as Colin Schooler and Krishon Merriweather each posted their first as Red Raiders. Merriweather combined on his sack with Tyree Wilson, who now has 1.5 this season.
- Travis Koontz posted the biggest play of his Texas Tech career versus Oklahoma as the senior tight end caught a pass over the middle and outraced the defense for a 75-yard touchdown. It marked the first touchdown of his Red Raider career and the longest completion by a tight end during Matt Wells' tenure at Tech.
- Chadarius Townsend found the end zone for the first time in his collegiate career against Oklahoma as he broke loose for a 36-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. Townsend led the Red Raiders in rushing against the Sooners, finishing with 68 yards on six carries, both career highs dating back to his time at Alabama.
- Eli Howard recorded his 100th career tackle versus West Virginia as the senior got to quarterback Jarret Doege for a sack to reach triple digits. The sack marked the fourth-consecutive season Howard has found a Mountaineer quarterback in the backfield as he has 4.0 career sacks versus West Virginia. Howard missed the road trip to TCU, breaking a streak of 37-consecutive games he has appeared on the defensive line which encompasses his entire Red Raider career.
- Texas Tech is on pace to boast the same team leader in rushing yards (SaRodorick Thompson) and receiving yards (Erik Ezukanma) in back-to-back seasons for the first time since the 2014-15 campaigns when current NFL standouts DeAndre Washington and Jakeem Grant did so.
- Colin Schooler recorded his best performance so far in his Texas Tech career versus West Virginia as he finished with a season-high nine tackles. He shared the team high in the win with two fellow linebackers in Riko Jeffers and Krishon Merriweather.
- Texas Tech had three Red Raiders record career highs for tackles against Iowa State as Eric Monroe led the team with 12 followed by Zech McPhearson with 10 and then Tony Bradford Jr. with eight. Both Monroe and McPhearson came close to double digits again versus Oklahoma before finishing with nine each.
- Brandon Bouyer-Randle put together a strong debut as a Red Raider with six tackles, a quarterback hurry and three pass breakups. It marked the most pass breakups for a Texas Tech linebacker since John Saldi knocked down four passes in the 2002 Tangerine Bowl versus Clemson.
- Thomas Leggett matched his career high with nine tackles versus Texas as he now has 40 for the season, which is third on the team only behind Krishon Merriweather and Riko Jeffers. He is two tackles shy of his career high of 42, which was set as a junior a year ago.

- As a punt returner, Adrian Frye ranks 25th nationally and fifth in the Big 12 after averaging 4.9 yards per return thus far. He has added 15 tackles and a pass breakup in his first year back as a cornerback in the Tech secondary.
- Xavier White emerged as another strong option in the Red Raider backfield versus Kansas State as the former inside receiver totaled 113 yards and a touchdown on the ground off only 12 carries. The performance included a 49-yard scamper late in the third quarter that marked his first rushing touchdown
- With White's performance, Texas Tech boasted a 100-yard rusher in each of its first three games as SaRodorick Thompson combined for 222 yards against Houston Baptist and Texas. During the Big 12 era, the Red Raiders had not previously boasted both a 100-rusher in each of its first three games and had two different players combine on that streak.

THOMPSON POWERING RUNNING GAME

- Matt Wells has made it no secret that the Red Raiders will look to flourish in the running game under his watch, giving Texas Tech a balanced approach that can score via both an explosive play and in the red zone. One key component to that approach will once again be through sophomore running back SaRodorick Thompson, who leads the Red Raiders with 391 rushing yards and six touchdowns. He also has 18 catches for 71 yards thus far.
- Thompson eclipsed the 100-yard mark in each of Texas Tech's first two games this season as he totaled 118 yards and two touchdowns versus Houston Baptist before finishing with 104 yards and an additional two touchdowns against Texas. Thompson is the first Red Raider to rush for at least 100 yards in each of the first two games of a season since 1998 when Ricky Williams combined for 431 rushing yards and four touchdowns against UTEP and North Texas. Williams reached the 100-yard plateau in each of Tech's first five games that season.
- Thompson, who now has seven multi-touchdown games in his career, is the first Red Raider to rush for at least two touchdowns in each of the first two games since Shannon Woods in 2008.
- Thompson became only the eighth Red Raider to lead the team in rushing as a freshman in 2019, joining the likes of James Gray (1986), Byron "Bam" Morris (1991), Byron Hanspard (1994), Ricky Williams (1997), Shaun Williams (1999), Taurean Henderson (2002) and Da'Leon Ward (2016).
- Among that group, Thompson ranks second all-time, trailing only Henderson's 793 yards from the 2002 season. Two members of that group in Morris and Hanspard went on to win the prestigious Doak Walker Award later in their respective careers.

TEXAS TECH FRESHMEN TO LEAD TEAM IN RUSHING ALL-TIME

Name (Year)	Yards
James Gray (1986)	613
Byron "Bam" Morris (1991)	514
Byron Hanspard (1994)	761
Ricky Williams (1997)	894
Shaun Williams (1999)	658
Taurean Henderson (2002)	793
Da'Leon Ward (2016)	428
SaRodorick Thompson (2019)	765

FRESHMEN DELIVERING AS PROMISED

- Matt Wells came into the 2020 season thinking he and his staff had delivered a talented freshmen class that will play a huge part in Texas Tech's future, especially on offense. That future has turned into the presence as the Red Raiders have relied on several true freshmen at the receiver and running back positions as well as on the offensive line.
- Texas Tech has started three freshmen so far this season as Ja'Lynn Polk has made four starts at outside receiver, while Myles Price has earned two starts at inside receiver and redshirt freshman Trey Cleveland previously collected his first career start against Iowa State.
- Freshmen have contributed 59 catches already this season as Myles Price leads the group with 21 grabs for 193 yards and a touchdown followed by Ja'Lynn Polk with 18 catches for 205 yards. The duo currently ranks third and fourth, respectively, in receptions this season. Polk has two touchdown catches this season as he found the end zone against both Oklahoma and TCU, while Price found the end zone for the first time at Kansas State.

THE OFFENSIVE STANDARD

Texas Tech has long been considered the offensive standard since the Red Raiders moved to a passing attack in 2000. In fact, the numbers don't lie when it pertains to the high-octane Red Raider offense. Below is where Texas Tech ranks nationally in several offensive categories since the start of the 2000 season:

TOTAL YARDS

Oklahoma	128,849
Texas Tech	126,591
Boise State	121,920

HOWARD AMONG TECH SACK LEADERS

Eli Howard has become a familiar face for not only Red Raider fans but to opposing quarterbacks over his career as the Preseason All-Big 12 pick currently ranks among the top 10 in school history for career sacks. Howard, who is in his sixth year at the collegiate level, moved past Pete Robertson for ninth place after sacking West Virginia quarterback Jarret Doege, giving him 16.5 now for his career. He currently ranks 14th nationally and third among active Big 12 players in career sacks.

TEXAS TECH CAREER SACKS LEADERS

1. Aaron Hunt (1999-02)	34.0
2. Adell Duckett (2001-04)	28.0
3. Montae Reagor (1995-98)	25.5
4. Brandon Williams (2006-08)	22.5
5. Keyunta Dawson (2003-06)	19.5
6. Calvin Riggs (1983-86)	18.5
7. James Mosley (1985-88)	17.0
Shawn Jackson (1991-93)	17.0
9. Eli Howard (2017-present)	16.5
10. Pete Robertson (2011-14)	16.0
11. Brandon Sharpe (2008-09)	15.0

■ Polk caught five passes for 56 yards versus Houston Baptist alone, marking the first time a true freshman has recorded five or more receptions in a season opener since two-time Biletnikoff Award winner Michael Crabtree in 2007. Polk matched his season high for receptions with five catches against Iowa State as he finished with 54 yards through the air.

■ Polk found the end zone for the second time this season against TCU as he was on the receiving end of a 60-yard scoring strike midway through the third quarter. The touchdown marked the second-longest reception by a Red Raider this season and the longest by a freshman since T.J. Vasher went the same distance to score against West Virginia in 2017.

■ Trey Cleveland found the end zone for the first time in his career versus West Virginia as the redshirt freshman hauled in a pass over the middle for an 11-yard touchdown in what was only the fourth catch of his still young career.

■ Injuries to both SaRodrick Thompson and Xavier White have allowed Tahj Brooks to take advantage of extended playing time the past month as he carried a season-high 12 times for 44 yards and a touchdown versus West Virginia and then another 12 times for 30 yards against Oklahoma. He posted his second rushing touchdown of the season early in the third quarter on a five-yard run to tie the game at 27-27 versus the Mountaineers. Brooks ranks second on the team with two rushing touchdowns entering this weekend as he's carried 33 times for 99 yards.

KRISHON ARRIVES AS ADVERTISED

■ It hasn't taken long for Krishon Merriweather to emerge as one of Texas Tech's most steady forces in its linebacker core as the junior-college transfer currently ranks second on the team for total tackles (48) and tied for second in tackles for loss (4.0).

■ Merriweather was tabbed the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week on Sept. 14 following an impressive debut versus Houston Baptist where he led the Red Raiders with 12 tackles, including a key fourth-down stop at the goal line just before halftime. He is the first Red Raider newcomer dating back to 2000 to record double digits for tackles in a season opener.

■ Over his six games this season, Merriweather has recorded 48 tackles, which ranks tied for fourth among Red Raiders in that time period, trailing only Jordyn Brooks (2009), Dakota Allen (2015) and Bront Bird (2010).

■ Merriweather arrived at Texas Tech as one of the top junior-college prospects in the country as he earned NJCAA first team All-America honors in 2019 after leading the country with 153 tackles. He picked the Red Raiders over offers from the likes of Arkansas and Oklahoma State.

MOST TACKLES THROUGH SIX GAMES (SINCE 2000)

TEXAS TECH KNOWS OFFENSE

■ One thing is certain when watching Texas Tech - the Red Raiders are going to find their way onto the scoreboard. Tech is currently riding a consecutive-game scoring streak that spans 289 games dating back to the 1997 season. The streak, which began against Texas A&M on Oct. 25, 1997, ranks tied for seventh nationally with Oklahoma and is the second-longest active streak in the Big 12 behind TCU.

■ Texas Tech moved into the top 10 for the longest scoring streaks in FBS history against TCU as the Red Raiders and Oklahoma are now tied with Tennessee's similar run of 289-straight game with points from 1994-2017. The Red Raiders had previously passed previous streaks by Texas (1980-2004), Georgia Tech (1997-2019) and Ohio State (1993-2016) already this season.

■ The Red Raiders will likely have to wait two years before moving up further in the FBS record book as Boise State currently ranks ninth with an active streak of 295-consecutive games with points, while Air Force is in eighth place after finding the scoreboard over 306-straight games from 1992-2017.

■ Texas Tech is the only school in the country to rank among the top 16 teams for total offense and top 10 for passing offense in every season since 2002.

VASH FOR SIX - A COMMON THEME

Over the past three seasons, T.J. Vasher has become one of the top red zone threats in the country as the 6-6 wideout has been labeled the "top red zone receiver in the Big 12" this off-season by Matt Wells. Vasher has hauled in 21 touchdown grabs so far in his career to go along with a multitude of headline-grabbing catches. Vasher has totaled 1,919 receiving yards on 141 catches, both of which lead all active Red Raiders.

PATTERSON CONTINUES TO BUILD #806D

■ The Red Raiders will look to build on the defensive improvements from a year ago under second-year coordinator Keith Patterson, who returns eight starters on his side of the ball. Patterson's first year leading the defense was highlighted by an aggressive scheme that had Texas Tech force 19 turnovers while allowing 30.3 points per game, its lowest average since 2009.

■ Patterson's defenses have long been known for their ability to create turnovers as Utah State led the nation with 32 takeaways in 2018 prior to hire his hire at Texas Tech. Patterson's unit has created 57 takeaways the past two-plus seasons alone, which is tied for fourth nationally among active defensive coordinators. He only trails Clemson's Brent Venables, UCF's Randy Shannon and Alabama's Pete Golding in the category during that span.

■ Patterson mentored Jordyn Brooks into one of the top line-backers in the country a year ago as the now Seattle Seahawk garnered second team All-America honors by multiple publications. He later became the first Red Raider defensive player to be drafted in the first round of the NFL Draft since College Football Hall of Famer Gabe Rivera in 1983.

■ Brooks joined a long list of defensive standouts to record at least 100 tackles in a season under Patterson as he finished with 108 on the year, including 20.0 that went for a loss, despite missing a considerable amount of playing time in November due to injury. Patterson has now mentored 10 players who have recorded 100 or more tackles in a season since he became the defensive coordinator at Tulsa in 2006.

BACK TO SCHOOL(ER)

■ It's not everyday a school can add a three-time All-Conference selection to its roster leading up to the season. The Red Raiders did just that, however, in August when Arizona graduate transfer Colin Schooler chose to play his final season in Lubbock.

■ Schooler, a Freshman All-America honoree and the Pac-12 Freshman Defensive Player of the Year in 2017, recorded at least 90 tackles in all three seasons with the Wildcats, including a career-high 119 in 2018. He has totaled 350 career tackles over his career, which places him second among active FBS players in the category entering this weekend.

■ Schooler also ranks second among all active FBS players in career tackles for a loss as he has posted 47.5 knockdowns behind the line of scrimmage, including 10.0 that have gone for sacks. He needs 8.5 additional tackles for a loss this season to match Cincinnati's Antwan Peek (2000-02) and Michigan's Brandon Graham (2006-09) for 24th all-time in FBS history.

■ Schooler hails from a football family as his father, Tom, played at Eastern Michigan, while his older brother, Brendan, played at Oregon before transferring to Texas. His mother, Christine, was also a collegiate athlete as part of the Cal State Los Angeles volleyball program.

IN THEIR WORDS

Throughout the spring and summer when many of the Red Raiders were away from campus, Texas Tech published a series of first-person narratives from various Red Raiders that was appropriately named "In My Words." The range of stories ranged from Jack Anderson describing living his childhood dream of being a Red Raider to Jaylon Hutchings journey to recover from a knee injury that ended his senior year of high school before it even started.

Tony Bradford Jr., in the weeks that followed the killing of George Floyd, detailed how he wanted to join law enforcement once his football career was over. Bradford also described the weeks that followed the start of the COVID-19 pandemic as he remained in Lubbock to continue what was supposed to be a one-week internship with the Texas Tech Police Department.

I believe deep down we all want change. I want to help lead it. 🇺🇸 🇩🇪

CARTER BUILDS ON STRONG END TO 2019

- KeSean Carter picked up where he left off from the 2019 season as the junior has caught 23 passes for 226 yards and four touchdowns in only five games. Carter ranks 41st nationally and tied for fourth in the Big 12 currently for receiving touchdowns.
- Carter recorded his first career multi-touchdown game against Texas as he hauled in seven passes for 77 yards and a pair of touchdowns. It marked his second strong performance against the Longhorns as he previously notched career highs with 11 catches for 150 yards in the 2019 season finale.
- Dating back to the 2019 season finale, Carter has now caught 34 passes for 376 yards and five touchdowns over the past six games he has played alone. He has caught a receiving touchdown in four of those games as he now has seven for his career.

THE RIGHT GUARD

- Since becoming a collegiate head coach at Utah State in 2013, Matt Wells has prioritized special teams, so much so that every skill player on both sides of the ball is expected to contribute. If you're the top "bigger skill player" (i.e. linebackers, running backs and tight ends), you will find your way onto punt coverage as the right guard. Riko Jeffers was tabbed to the position this season, continuing the tradition Wells has employed throughout his career.
- Jeffers follows a fellow standout linebacker in Jordyn Brooks, who earned the right guard designation a year ago en route to eventually garnering second team All-America honors. Brooks was later selected 27th overall by the Seattle Seahawks this past April, marking the first time a Red Raider defensive player had been picked in the first round since Ring of Honor Gabe Rivera in 1983. Wells utilized other future NFL linebackers such as Bobby Wagner and Nick Vigil at the right guard on punt team during his six seasons at Utah State.
- Jeffers recorded his fourth career game with double-digit tackles versus Texas as the senior recorded 10 in the loss. He leads the team with 50 tackles and 7.5 tackles for a loss so far this season, 2.5 that came in the win over West Virginia.

ANDERSON, DEATON BOOST O-LINE

- Texas Tech will lean on the experience of juniors Jack Anderson and Dawson Deaton this season as the Red Raiders navigate the loss of three longtime starters along the offensive line. Anderson boasts 35 starts at right guard over his career, while his former Frisco High School teammate has made 21 starts at center.
- An early injury to Anderson paved the way for extra playing time for sophomore Weston Wright, who made eight starts a year ago at guard. Casey Verhulst also made three starts as a sophomore, giving Texas Tech 71 career starts among its returners up front.
- Anderson remains one of the top signees in Texas Tech history as the junior is a likely NFL Draft selection over the next two years. Anderson has started in 35 games over his Red Raider career after signing with Texas Tech as a consensus four-star prospect and a top-50 prospect by ESPN.
- Texas Tech's biggest loss came at the two tackle spots with the departure of Travis Bruffy and Terence Steele, both NFL free agent signees with the Green Bay Packers and Dallas Cowboys, respectively. The duo accounted for 81 starts alone over their Red Raider careers. The 2019 season also marked the end of Madison Akamnonu's career as the veteran guard closed his tenure with 39 starts primarily at left guard. Steele has already started in multiple games at right tackle this year for the Cowboys.

GETTING OLDER...

- One of the goals for Matt Wells and his staff upon their arrival in Dec. 2018 was making the Red Raiders older as a roster. They have done just that, bringing in 12 graduate transfers during that span, including eight who appear on this year's roster.
- One area Wells has taken advantage of is graduate transfers with multiple years of eligibility remaining. Zech McPhearson and Ja'Marcus Ingram are entering their second year with the Red Raiders, while Brandon Bouyer-Randle and Chadarius Townsend both arrived in Lubbock as juniors this offseason.
- Of the 12 graduate transfers to arrive under Wells, eight have come from power-five schools, including five in this year's class.
- Wells' first class of graduate transfers provided an immediate impact in several ways a year ago as McPhearson started in all 12 games at cornerback, while Armand Shyne and RJ Turner ranked as the Red Raiders' second-leading rusher and receiver, respectively. Ingram also appeared in all 12 games, while Evan Rambo made two starts at linebacker before medically retiring.

Note: Eligibility signals year upon arriving to Texas Tech.

CHAMPIONSHIP EXPERIENCE

- Among Texas Tech's graduate transfers, two already own national championship rings in former Alabama running back Chadarius Townsend and LSU safety Eric Monroe. Townsend was a redshirt on Alabama's 2017 national championship team and later played in the Crimson Tide's College Football Playoff run in 2018. Monroe, meanwhile, saw action in 12 games during the 2019 campaign, including both of LSU's victories in the College Football Playoff.
- Texas Tech linebackers coach Kevin Cosgrove was also part of LSU's national championship run in 2019 as he was a senior defensive analyst for the Tigers.

COLOMBI, WILSON GRANTED WAIVERS

- Texas Tech junior quarterback Henry Colombi and sophomore defensive lineman Tyree Wilson were both granted an NCAA waiver during preseason camp that make the two transfers immediately eligible this season. Colombi transferred to Texas Tech early in camp from Utah State, while Wilson arrived in Lubbock following one season at Texas A&M.

THE SIXTH-YEAR VETERANS

- Texas Tech will have two veterans on each side of the ball this year with a pair of sixth-year players in wide receiver Seth Collins and defensive lineman Eli Howard. Collins was granted an extra year after missing the entire 2019 season with a shoulder injury. Howard, meanwhile, was returned a year of eligibility following the 2017 season due to the nature of his transfer from North Texas.
- The NCAA has already declared all fall sport student-athletes will not lose a year of eligibility this year due to the COVID-19 pandemic, meanwhile both Collins and Howard could return in 2021 for a seventh season. Texas Tech had a seventh-year senior only a few years ago in offensive lineman Tony Morales, who was with the Red Raiders from 2011-17.

YOU'RE ON SCHOLARSHIP

- Matt Wells has surprised two former walk-ons in sophomore place kicker Trey Wolff and sophomore running back Xavier White with scholarships since the end of the 2019 season. Wolff received a phone call from Wells on Christmas Day last December, while White was presented with his scholarship during a Zoom midway through preseason camp.
- The use of Zoom has become a popular tool for the Red Raiders this summer as Texas Tech utilized the platform for many of its team meetings. White believed he was in the middle of a normal Sunday night meeting until Wells introduced his grandfather, Joe Washington, who proceeded to deliver the scholarship presentation. White, a local product out of Monterey High School, is a third generation student-athlete at Texas Tech as his grandfather and uncle, Josh Washington, were both members of the men's basketball program.

THEY'RE THE CAPTAINS NOW

- Matt Wells named 10 team captains to his leadership council in the day leading up to the season opener against Houston Baptist.

The captains circle features three seniors, two seniors and five sophomores with one player representing the Red Raiders at the coin toss each week.

■ Among the elected captains, six were selected for a second-consecutive season in seniors Eli Howard and Riko Jeffers, junior Jack Anderson and sophomores Alan Bowman, Erik Ezukanma and SaRodorick Thompson.

WHAT RETURNS FOR THE RED RAIDERS

■ Texas Tech returns the bulk of its starters from a year ago, including its leading rusher in SaRodorick Thompson and leading receiver Erik Ezukanma. The Red Raiders boast six starters returning on the offensive side of the ball and eight more on defense. Texas Tech also brings back each of its three specialists as well.

■ Below is a breakdown of the percentage the Red Raiders return in each statistical category:

(MULTIPLE) DEGREES IN HAND

■ Eli Howard is not only one of the top returning sack leaders in college football but also a rarity in the fact that he is already a two-time college graduate from Texas Tech. Howard, who arrived in Lubbock as a walk-on transfer from North Texas prior to the 2016 season, earned his undergraduate degree in management at Texas Tech prior to his 2017 sophomore season and then added his master's in personal financial planning this spring.

■ The 2020 season will be Howard's sixth as a collegiate student-athlete as he was awarded an extension to his five-year clock prior to the 2017 campaign. A native of San Angelo, Texas, Howard will pursue multiple certificates through the Rawls College of Business during the 2020 football season.

POLICE CHIEF, TONY BRADFORD JR.

■ In the midst of a national conversation regarding social injustice in this country, Texas Tech has found a voice with a unique perspective - sophomore defensive lineman Tony Bradford Jr., who desires to join law enforcement once his playing career is over. Bradford's goal is to one day rise to the role of police chief where he says he "can make real change."

■ Bradford received a crash course in his future profession throughout the spring as he served as a security guard with the Texas Tech Police Department. Bradford, who was initially set to only work one week with TTPD during Spring Break, extended his internship through June due to the COVID-19 pandemic that ultimately canceled spring practice.

■ Despite being in his second year on campus, Bradford has become a leader in the Red Raider locker room as he has helped organize peaceful walks on the Texas Tech campus and in East Lubbock throughout the summer and preseason camp.

CRABTREE NAMED TO RING OF HONOR

■ In addition to the Texas Tech Hall of Fame, Michael Crabtree will soon be inducted into an even-more prestigious group, the Ring of Honor. The two-time Biletnikoff Award winner was named the sixth member of the Texas Tech Ring of Honor on Sept. 17 with his formal induction slated for the 2021 season.

■ Crabtree will join the likes of fellow Red Raider greats Donny Anderson, Gabe Rivera, E.J. Holub, Dave Parks and Zach Thomas in the Ring of Honor as he will be the first Red Raider to play in the Big 12 era to be inducted.

■ Crabtree departed Texas Tech as the school's career leader for receiving yards (3,127) and touchdown catches (41) as well as the single-season leader for receptions (134), receiving yards (1,962) and receiving touchdowns (22), all of which are still in place outside the career mark for receiving yards. Current Miami Dolphins wideout Jakeem Grant broke the career receiving yards record after totaling 3,289 over four seasons from 2011-15.

CRABTREE, HARRELL SET FOR HOF

■ Red Raider greats Michael Crabtree and Graham Harrell will be inducted together into the Texas Tech Hall of Fame as part of the 2020 class that was announced this summer. Arguably the top quarterback-receiver duo in school history, Crabtree and Harrell are part of a seven-person class that also features All-America guard Ronald Ross, former discus national champion D'Andra Carter, golfer Brooke Lowrance, volleyball standout Chris Martin and All-American infielder Jason Totman. Induction plans for Texas Tech's 2020 class are still pending at this time.

SPECIAL TEAMS WATCH

MCNAMARA SNAPS TECH, BIG 12 RECORD

- Austin McNamara snapped the Texas Tech and Big 12 records for the longest punt as the sophomore sailed a booming 87-yard punt late in the third quarter against West Virginia. It was one of two punts of 70 yards or longer by McNamara as he also booted a 74-yard attempt early in the first quarter.
- His 87-yard punt was easily the longest in college football this season as it is the only one over 80 yards as Michigan State's Bryce Baringer has the next-longest kick at 78 yards. McNamara recorded the longest punt by an FBS player since Marshall's Kaare Vedvik launched a 92-yard punt versus Old Dominion in 2017.
- McNamara broke the Texas Tech single-game record for the longest punt that was previously set by R.W. Moyers in 1945 against West Texas State. Moyers launched an 85-yard punt in the win, which is the only other punt of 80 yards or longer in school history. He broke the previous Big 12 record of 85 yards that was set by Oklahoma's Tress Way in 2010 against Utah State.

LONGEST PUNTS IN BIG 12 CONFERENCE HISTORY

Name (School)	Opponent (Year)	Yards
1. Austin McNamara (TTU)	West Virginia (2020)	87
2. Tress Way (Oklahoma)	Utah State (2010)	85
3. Sam Koch (Nebraska)	Pittsburgh (2005)	84
4. Curtis Ansel (Kansas)	Baylor (2002)	83
5. Five Others	--	82

MCNAMARA AGAIN AMONG NATION'S BEST

- McNamara remains one of the nation's top punters this season as he is averaging 46.1 yards per boot, which is roughly a yard more than the clip he totaled a year ago when he garnered Freshman All-America honors by the FWA and The Athletic in 2019. The Arizona native enters this weekend as the Big 12 leader and ranked ninth in the FBS for punting average among players who have played in at least three games.
- While still only a sophomore, McNamara's strong start has placed him contention to one day ink his name in the Texas Tech record book as his 45.4 career average would easily snap the record of 43.7 that was set by Taylor Symmank (2012-15).

TEXAS TECH SINGLE-SEASON LEADERS IN PUNTING AVERAGE

1. Jake Camarda (Georgai)	48.4
2. Bryce Baringer (Michigan State)	48.2
3. Pressley Harvin III (Georgia Tech)	47.7
4. Zach Von Rosenberg (LSU)	47.0
5. Lou Hedley (Miami) / Max Duffy (Kentucky)	46.3
6. Austin McNamara (Texas Tech)	46.1

Note: Must have played in more than three games to be eligible.

ACCURACY KEY FOR WOLFF

- Despite a slow start to his season, Wolff has proved to be a reliable leg as Texas Tech's primary place kicker and kickoff specialist as he is 21-of-26 on field attempts over his career. He is 1-for-4 on attempts this season with his lone successful try coming on a 40-yarder at TCU.
- Wolff closed his 2019 redshirt freshman season an impressive 20-of-22 on field goal attempts as he ranked seventh in the FBS in field goal percentage (90.9), which also marked the second-highest clip in Texas Tech single-season history. Wolff closed the year with the most successful field goals by a freshman kicker all-time and the second-highest total in school history. He also ranked 14th nationally in field goals per game and 27th in points scored per game.

WELLS BRINGS AGGRESSIVE STYLE TO STs

- Matt Wells has stated on multiple occasions during his tenure that the Red Raiders will be more than aggressive on special teams in order to try to win the game. The Red Raiders have done that and more this season with three blocked kicks, a recovered outside kick and two touchdowns on special teams.
- Texas Tech has blocked three kicks already this season as Jacob Morgenstern blocked a punt versus Texas, while Eli Howard got a hand on an Iowa State field goal attempt that was returned 90 yards for a touchdown by Zech McPhearson. Jaylon Hutchings added Tech's most-recent blocked kick as he knocked down a field goal attempt versus TCU. The Red Raiders are one of eight teams nationally and one of two in the Big 12 to record at least three blocked kicks this year.
- Texas Tech has combined to block six kicks already in the 19 games of Matt Wells' tenure, which ranks tied for third nationally and first among power-five teams since the start of 2019. It marks the most for the Red Raiders over a two-year period dating back to 2000. Tech previously totaled five blocked kicks over the first two years under Mike Leach (2000-01).
- Morgenstern's blocked punt likely didn't come to a surprise to many of his former teammates at Duke where he was presented the team's Bill Keziah Award in 2019 as the school's top special teams performer.
- McPhearson has now been part of three of Texas Tech's six blocked kicks as he got his hands on two blocked field goals/extra points a year ago before finding the end zone against Iowa State. He was the first Red Raider to return a blocked field goal for a touchdown since Lawrence Flurgence went 79 yards in 2000 versus Oklahoma State.

RED RAIDERS IN THE NFL

SPORTS LARGEST CONTRACT

- There isn't a bigger star in the NFL right now than Texas Tech's own Patrick Mahomes II. The one-time Red Raider gunslinger has transformed the NFL in only three-plus professional seasons, claiming NFL MVP honors in 2018 before leading the Kansas City Chiefs to a win in Super Bowl LIV this past season.
- Mahomes finished with 286 yards through the air and accounted for three touchdowns on his way to becoming the youngest player in history to be named the NFL MVP and also win a Super Bowl. Mahomes, who at only 24 years of age, was also tabbed Super Bowl MVP after leading the Chiefs to only their second Super Bowl title in history and their first since 1970.
- In July, Mahomes signed the richest contract not only in NFL history but in all of sports as he and the Chiefs agreed on a 10-year extension worth up to $503 million. It marked the second time in school history where a Red Raider has signed the richest NFL contract as Ring of Honor member Donny Anderson previously did so with the Green Bay Packers upon being drafted in 1965.
- Mahomes claimed NFL MVP honors in 2018 following a memorable debut where he became only the second quarterback in NFL history to throw for 5,000 yards and 50 touchdowns in a regular season. The season ended with Mahomes and the Chiefs falling just a win shy of a Super Bowl appearance.
- Dating back to his time as a Red Raider, the 2016 Sammy Baugh Trophy winner is the only quarterback in history to throw for 5,000 yards at both the collegiate and NFL levels. Mahomes threw for 5,052 yards in only 12 games as a junior in 2016, his final season as a Red Raider before being selected with the 10th overall pick of the 2017 NFL Draft.
- Mahomes is the first Red Raider in school history to garner NFL MVP honors as he was also an All-Pro selection and the AFC starter in the annual Pro Bowl game. He was also the first Kansas City Chief to be recognized with the NFL's top honor.

BROOKS SELECTED IN FIRST ROUND

- Jordyn Brooks joined the likes of Red Raiders now in the NFL as the four-year starter was selected 27th overall by the Seattle Seahawks this past April.
- Brooks became the eighth Red Raider all-time to go off the board in the opening round, joining an elite group that includes Walter Schlinkmann (1945), Dave Parks (1964), Donny Anderson (1965), Ted Watts (1981), Gabe Rivera (1983), Michael Crabtree (2009) and Patrick Mahomes II (2017). Of that list, the late Rivera, a College Football Hall of Famer and member of the Texas Tech Ring of Honor, was the last defensive player to be chosen in the first round as the Pittsburgh Steelers took Señor Sack with the 21st overall pick in 1983.
- Broderick Washington Jr. followed Brooks in hearing his name called in last year's draft as the Baltimore Ravens used the 170th overall pick to select the three-year starter.
- Brooks and Washington were two of 14 Red Raider alums to find their way on NFL 53-man rosters as was fellow 2019 graduate Terence Steele, who earned his spot on the Dallas Cowboys offensive line despite signing as an undrafted free agent.

RED RAIDERS IN HEAD COACHING ROLES

- Texas Tech is one of only two FBS programs in the country to boast two former players as NFL head coaches this season as Anthony Lynn enters his fourth season leading the Los Angeles Chargers, while Kliff Kingsbury heads into his second season with the Arizona Cardinals. The only other school in the FBS with multiple alums as NFL head coaches is Miami of Ohio, which features John Harbaugh (Ravens) and Sean McVay (Rams). William and Mary at the FCS level also sports two of its former players roaming NFL sidelines in Sean McDermott (Bills) and Mike Tomlin (Steelers).
- Lynn, who earned the Chargers job after serving as the Bills' interim head coach to end the 2016 campaign, led the Chargers to a 12-4 record in 2018 and an appearance in the AFC Divisional round. He returned to Lubbock for a men's basketball game in recent year and took part in a Zoom chat with the Red Raiders this summer.
- In addition to the two head coaches, Texas Tech also has three former letterwinners in prominent assistant coach positions as Kris Kocurek and Wes Welker are in their second seasons with the San Francisco 49ers as the defensive line and wide receivers coaches, while Mike Smith is entering his second year as the outside linebackers coach with the Green Bay Packers.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES

- Danny Amendola is in his 12th NFL season and second with the Detroit Lions as he has caught 547 passes for 5,362 yards and 21 touchdowns over his professional career. He is one of four Red Raiders all-time to win multiple Super Bowls.
- Kerry Hyder and Cody Davis both found new homes this offseason after signing with the San Francisco 49ers and New England Patriots, respectively. Dakota Allen found his way on a 53-man roster for the first time with the Jacksonville Jaguars.

NFL DRAFT SELECTIONS UNDER WELLS

- Matt Wells has coached nine players who have heard their name called during the NFL Draft during his tenures at both Utah State (2013-18) and Texas Tech (2019-). The list of successful pupils includes a pair of first-round selections in quarterback Jordan Love and Jordyn Brooks, who were picked with back-to-back picks in the 2020 draft.

HEAD COACH MATT WELLS

Matt Wells, a two-time conference Coach of the Year recipient, was named the 16th head football coach in Texas Tech history on Nov. 29, 2018.

The 2020 season will be Wells' eighth season as a collegiate head coach as he has compiled a 50-47 overall record following six seasons at his alma mater, Utah State, and one year leading the Red Raiders. He led the Aggies to five bowl appearances during his tenure, a feat he will look to accomplish frequently as he continues to build the Texas Tech program.

Despite missing bowl eligibility for only the second time in his career, Wells set the groundwork for future success at Texas Tech behind the efforts of a senior class that featured a pair of All-Big 12 first team selections in Jordyn Brooks and Douglas Coleman III. Both were strong candidates for national awards as well with Coleman a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award and Brooks a finalist for the Butkus Award. They were joined on the All-Big 12 first team by punter Austin McNamara, who led all FBS freshmen after averaging 45.0 yards per punt.

National pundits also noticed Brooks' efforts as he was tabbed a second team All-American by multiple publications following the season. It marked the first time a Tech linebacker had earned first or second team All-America accolades since College Football Hall of Famer and Ring of Honor member Zach Thomas in 1995. The Seattle Seahawks agreed with many of the awards committees as well, selecting Brooks with the 27th overall pick of the 2020 NFL Draft. He became only the eighth Red Raider all-time to go off the board in the first round and just the third defensive player to do so, joining the likes of Ted Watts (1981) and another College Football Hall of Famer and Ring of Honor member in Gabe Rivera (1983).

Wells was tabbed the head coach for his alma mater on Dec. 20, 2012, following two seasons as an assistant coach on staff. Utah State experienced possibly its best stretch in history during Wells' tenure as the Aggies won 44 games and played in five bowl games under his guidance, quite the feat for a program that had only eight postseason trips to its record prior to his promotion.

Wells, the fourth-longest tenured coach in program history, departed Utah State as the only coach in school history to lead the Aggies to at least three bowl games as well as multiple bowl victories. In fact, Wells was a player (1993), a coordinator (2012) or the head coach (2013-14) for four of Utah State's five bowl wins in its history with the lone exception coming at the 2018 Gildan New Mexico Bowl after he had already accepting the job at Texas Tech.

Wells closed his tenure in Logan as the second-winningest coach in program history as his 44 victories trailed only the total of E. Lowell Romney, who accumulated 128 wins over a 29-year stretch from 1919-48. Additionally, Wells compiled a 30-18 record in Mountain West play, trailing only Romney in all-time conference wins among Utah State head coaches.

Wells, a quarterback for the Aggies from 1994-96, was a member of two conference championship teams as a student-athlete, which came as a redshirt freshman in 1993 and as a senior in 1996 when Utah State was a member of the Big West Conference.

A DEVELOPMENTAL PROGRAM

Since taking the reigns as Texas Tech's head coach, Matt Wells has stressed the importance in turning the Red Raiders into a "developmental program." Over his career, Wells and his staff have done just that with eight former players moving on to the NFL, including a pair of first-round draft picks last year in Jordyn Brooks and Jordan Love. Below is a look at several notable players under Wells who have moved on to the next level.

JORDYN BROOKS | LB

Brooks put together his best season of his career under Wells en route to being selected 27th overall by the Seattle Seahawks in 2020 NFL Draft. He became the first Red Raider defensive player to be chosen in the first round since Ring of Honor member Gabe Rivera in 1983.

KYLER FACKRELL | LB

Fackrell was one of seven Aggies who earned All-America honors under Wells before being selected in the third round of the 2016 NFL Draft. He enters his fifth NFL season this fall with the New York Giants after playing his first four years with the Green Bay Packers.

JORDAN LOVE | QB

Love set numerous school records on his way to establishing himself among the nation's top quarterback prospects under Wells and David Yost at Utah State in 2018. He was later selected 26th overall by the Green Bay Packers in the 2020 NFL Draft.

NICK VIGIL | LB

Vigil, a two-time first team All-Mountain West selection under Wells, heard his name called one pick before Fackrell in the third round of the 2016 NFL Draft. He played his first four NFL seasons with the Cincinnati Bengals before signing with the LA Chargers this offseason.

SECOND-YEAR HEAD COACHES ALL-TIME

■ Matt Wells will look to become only the third head coach in program history this season to lead the Red Raiders to a bowl game in only his second season. Steve Sloan (1976) and Mike Leach (2001) previously guided the Red Raiders to a bowl appearance in their second season overseeing the program.

■ Below is a look at how Texas Tech head coaches have fared in their second year leading the Red Raiders.

IN ELITE COMPANY

■ Wells' reputation as a program builder was highly recognized during his Utah State tenure as he was twice named the Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. He is one of only five coaches in the conference's history to earn the honor twice in a career, joining a list that also includes Sonny Lubick, Rocky Long, Urban Meyer and his now Big 12 counterpart, Gary Patterson.

STABILITY ON STAFF

■ This is the third-consecutive season and second at Texas Tech where head coach Matt Wells, defensive coordinator Keith Patterson and offensive coordinator David Yost have all worked on the same staff. The trio began their time working together at Utah State in 2018 when Patterson was hired to oversee the Aggies' defense. Yost began his relationship with Wells a year earlier at Utah State.

TWO NEW FACES ON STAFF

■ Texas Tech will have two new faces on its sideline this fall as coaching veterans Kevin Cosgrove and Derek Jones joined the staff prior to the start of spring practice. Cosgrove was hired to oversee the Red Raider linebackers as defensive coordinator Keith Patterson will transition to overseeing the entire unit while assisting Jones with the secondary.

■ Jones was tabbed associate head coach and co-defensive coordinator as part of his hiring that reunites him with both Patterson and Matt Wells. The trio all coached together at Tulsa in 2006 before Jones departed for Memphis a year later and then 12 years at Duke, eventually rising to associate head coach. Duke had recorded only 10 wins in the previous eight seasons prior to Jones' arrival before eventually claiming the ACC Coastal Division title in 2013. The Blue Devils reached a bowl game in six of the final eight years Jones was on staff.

■ Cosgrove, meanwhile, joined the Texas Tech staff fresh off winning a national championship ring as the lead defensive analyst at LSU. He arrived in Lubbock with 39 years of collegiate coaching experience, including 22 seasons as a defensive coordinator with stops at Wisconsin, Nebraska and Minnesota among others.

FAMILIARITY WITH STAFF

■ When he interviewed with Director of Athletics Kirby Hocutt and President Lawrence Schovanec in November 2018, Matt Wells made it clear his hire wouldn't just bring the then Utah State head coach to Lubbock. It would, in fact, bring his entire program as Wells stressed the importance of hiring a staff that believed in the same philosophy.

■ Wells has five members of his final Utah State staff entering their second year at Texas Tech, notably both of his coordinators in defensive coordinator Keith Patterson and offensive coordinator David Yost. Patterson led the Utah State defense during Wells' last season in Logan, while Yost coordinated the offense over the final two years. Wells also brought offensive line coach Steve Farmer, strength and conditioning coach Dave Scholz, running backs coach DeAndre Smith and inside receivers and tight ends coach Luke Wells with him from Utah State.

■ For his special teams position, Wells went back to his Utah State roots, hiring veteran coordinator Mark Tommerdahl as his associate head coach. Tommerdahl, who also assists with the offensive line in addition to his role as special teams coordinator, previously served in a similar role at Utah State in 2017 where the Aggies led the Mountain West and ranked fourth nationally with four blocked punts. Utah State was also among the top-25 teams nationally for kick return defense after allowing only 18.1 yards per return.

■ Paul Randolph, meanwhile, was quickly pursued for the defensive line position due to his ties to Patterson from their time together at Arizona State, Pittsburgh and Tulsa. Known as one of the top defensive line coaches in the country, Randolph served in a similar role at Memphis from 2016-18 and has also made similar stops at the likes of Alabama and West Virginia.

■ Wells also tabbed a former Red Raider great to his staff in outside receivers coach Joel Filani, who starred at Texas Tech from 2003-06 and previously worked with Yost as a quality control assistant at Washington State in 2015.

IT'S NOT ONLY OFFENSE WITH WELLS

■ Just because Matt Wells came up on the offensive side of the ball doesn't mean he doesn't know about defense. In fact, he boasted one of the nation's most disruptive defenses in the country during his tenure at Utah State, highlighted by 152 forced turnovers, which led the Mountain West and ranked tied for fifth nationally during that span.

■ Utah State shared the FBS lead with 32 forced turnovers in 2018 on its way to an 11-2 season, which matched the most wins in program history. The Aggies also led the country in interceptions (22) as well as three-and-outs per game (5.7) and ranked third with six defensive touchdowns.

■ In addition, the Aggies surrendered only 224 touchdowns during his six seasons, which ranked third nationally behind only TCU (218) and Utah (221). The Aggies ranked fourth in the country with 1,853 points allowed over his tenure, which trailed only Utah (1,834), TCU (1,834) and Minnesota (1,836).

■ Utah State allowed only 23.9 points per game over Wells' tenure as opponents were held to 15 or less a total of 21 times.

■ Defense wasn't the only area Wells stressed throughout his Utah State tenure as the Aggies also scored four touchdowns via special teams in 2018. Utah State ranked second in the FBS with 10 non-offensive touchdowns.

GIVING BACK TO WEST TEXAS

■ In only their short time at Texas Tech, the Wells family has contributed significantly to the Lubbock community through non-profit organizations such as Voice for Hope through his Women's Football Clinic as well as the South Plains COVID-19 Relief Fund.

WE, US, OUR: RED RAIDERS IN THE LUBBOCK COMMUNITY

■ Since his hire at Texas Tech, Matt Wells has stressed the Red Raiders will be heavily involved in the community. That initiative was so important, in fact, that one of his first hires was a former teammate of his in Troy Kema as the football program's Associate Athletics Director for player development and student-athlete services to work closely on integrating the Red Raiders with the Lubbock community.

■ Texas Tech will wear an "Equality" patch on its jerseys throughout the 2020 season. The Red Raiders will also gather in a straight line just before kickoff in each game to solidify unity and working together to end social injustice.

■ As part of Texas Tech's commitment to social injustice initiatives, the football program will focus primarily on East Lubbock this season with visits to local elementary schools, Habitat for Humanity and other organizations already planned.

■ Since the start of preseason practices, the Red Raiders have worked voter registration booths, cleaned up a community center, organized an outreach program for local youth and participated in a Habitat for Humanity project in East Lubbock. Texas Tech will continue to volunteer in East Lubbock on Friday mornings of each home football weekend throughout the season.

■ Texas Tech's student-athletes participated in two peace walks this summer, one in East Lubbock and the other on campus in what was referred to as the "Red Raiders United" walk, which was attended by Mayor Dan Pope and Lubbock P.D. Chief Floyd Mitchell.

JONES AT&T STADIUM | HOME OF THE RED RAIDERS

PROTECTING JONES AT&T STADIUM

- Since his arrival at Texas Tech this past November, Matt Wells has stressed the importance in playing well inside Jones AT&T Stadium. In his words, teams that defend their home field elevate their season from “good” to “great,” a key message early in his tenure for a Red Raider program that hasn’t finished over .500 at home since the 2015 campaign.
- The Red Raiders finished 3-3 overall at home in their first season under Matt Wells, who scored his first top-25 victory as Texas Tech’s head coach with a win over Oklahoma State. Tech won by an average of 26.7 points in its three victories en route to starting its home slate at 3-0 for the first time since 2016.
- During his six seasons at Utah State, Wells compiled an impressive 27-7 record at home, an impressive .794 winning percentage. Wells led the Aggies to a .500 or better record at home in each of his six seasons and twice finished with a perfect 6-0 mark.
- Texas Tech is looking to get back to its winning ways as the Red Raiders were 69-18 at home over the course of the first 14 years (1996-2009) in the Big 12 Conference (a .793 winning percentage). Tech boasted a .500 or better record at home in each of those seasons en route to playing in 12 bowl games with the two lone exceptions being a result of a self-imposed postseason ban in 1997 and the retirement of Spike Dykes in 1999. Tech was an impressive 29-4 during the final five years of that stretch, including a pair of percent 7-0 years (2005, 2008).
- Since then, Texas Tech is only a combined 33-30 at home over the course of the past nine-plus seasons. The Red Raiders have lost at least two games at home each season during that time, including three years of 2-4 campaigns.

STADIUM HISTORY

- Jones AT&T Stadium, home of Red Raider Football since Nov. 29, 1947, is arguably one of the most electric gameday atmospheres in all of college football. Armed with 60,000-plus rabid fans, Dave Curtis of The Sporting News proclaimed in May of 2010 that Jones AT&T Stadium was the best home field advantage in all of college football.
- Overall, since 2003, Texas Tech has invested $150 million over the past 15 years with four major renovations making Jones AT&T Stadium one of the best on-campus football facilities in the country. Included in the renovations, a $34 million east side stadium building, including 29 luxury suites and 544 club seats. These renovations also include new concession areas and restrooms throughout the stadium as well as a newly enlarged Texas Tech Locker Room, the headquarters for all your Texas Tech gear and souvenirs. The West Side Stadium Building officially opened for the 2003 football season. The $52 million dollar, 175,000 sq. ft. facility provides a large and accommodating press level for local and national media, more than 150 TVs and video screens, 47 comfortable and private suites, 1,070 club seats, and a spacious, inviting club level.
- The stadium was officially renamed from Jones Stadium to Jones SBC Stadium in 2000 following major corporate gifts (in excess of $25 million) from SBC Communications (now AT&T). The stadium was renamed again in 2006 to Jones AT&T Stadium after SBC Communications formally changed its name to AT&T. The “Jones” in Jones Stadium comes from former Texas Tech president Clifford B. Jones and his wife Aubrey. The stadium was named in their honor upon its opening in 1947.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Working media credentials for the 2020 Texas Tech football season must be requested online at www.SportsSystems.com/TexasTech. All requests must be submitted by the sports editor or director from each outlet. Due to safety recommendations and space limitations, Texas Tech will only issue single-game credentials for the 2020 season. Credentialing priority for football will be given to professional media outlets that cover Texas Tech Athletics on an active basis. This includes weekly press conferences, post-practice availabilities and each of Texas Tech's other athletic programs. Additional information on approval guidelines can be found below.

Media will have until 5 p.m. each Tuesday of a home game to submit credential requests. Any request made after this time will not be granted and no exceptions will be made. Media members are welcome to request credentials for every home game as part of their initial application. Please note, however, that Texas Tech will not approve or deny any credential requests until after that 5 p.m. deadline each Tuesday.

Due to safety recommendations, Texas Tech has set a limit on the amount of media credentials it will issue per game in order to promote social distancing in the pressbox as well as to ensure safety of our student-athletes and coaches on the sidelines. Per Big 12 guidelines for this season, Texas Tech will only issue four pool photographer passes for sideline access.

Please note that direct contact with Texas Tech student-athletes and coaches will not be allowed this season. Members of the media will have access to head coach Matt Wells and student-athletes via virtual interviews only. As a result, approved media members inside Jones AT&T Stadium and those not at the venue will have the same ability to take part in virtual interviews with Wells and select student-athletes following each game.

WWW.TEXASTECH.COM

This is the official website of Texas Tech Athletics. Texas Tech football releases as well as a wide variety of athletics department information can be found on the web. Weekly game notes, news and statistical information can be found here throughout the football season.

Please submit your requests to Ty Parker or Elise Bressler.

USE OF AUDIO/VIDEO

Any media entity collecting any sort of "video or audio materials" (film, traditional video or audio, digital video or audio, photos, etc.) from Texas Tech University Athletics game events or press conference/media events may use that material only for traditional television newscasts, web-based or print coverage, or other electronic transmission as approved by the University in writing, with a limitation of up to three (3) minutes in length from any single event. Such media entity may not offer any live video, audio or other coverage of the event without the advance, written permission of Texas Tech University Athletics.

TEXAS TECH SPORTS NETWORK

The Texas Tech Sports Network from Learfield Sports will carry all the exciting action of Red Raider Football beginning with the season opener with Sam Houston State and all the way through the bowl season. Brian Jensen (play-by-play) and John Harris (color analyst) return to the broadcast booth and will be joined on the sidelines by Chris Level (sidelines).
