IT'S WORTH NOTING...

~ This part of the BIG EAST/Big 12 Battle features two programs that have captured three of the past five NCAA championships. The Wildcats earned the 2016 and 2018 titles - both in Texas (Houston and San Antonio) - while Baylor claimed the 2021 NCAA crown. Villanova and Baylor also rank second and third for consecutive weeks in the Associated Press Top 25 poll per the College Poll Archive. The Wildcats have been ranked for 45 consecutive weeks since falling out of the Top 25 after a loss at Penn in December 2018. The Bears have been ranked for 42 straight weeks. Only Gonzaga - 100 consecutive weeks - has a longer active streak in the AP poll.

~ Villanova's work at the defensive end of the court has been a developing storyline of late. Nova has held six of its nine opponents below the 60-point threshold, including five of the last six. It is 5-0 this season when holding foes below 60 points in a game. Foes average 63.1 points per game against the Wildcats.

~ Graduate student Jermaine Samuels enters Sunday's game on the cusp of a milestone. The native of Franklin, Mass, has scored 983 points over 124 career games at VU.

~ This is Villanova's first ever visit to Waco but as noted, the Lone Star state has been kind to the Wildcats. Since the 2016 NCAA Final Four, Nova is 5-0 in Texas, including a 68-64 victory in Austin over the University of Texas last December.

~ Collin Gillespie, now a graduate student in his fifth season with the Wildcats, is the only Wildcat to have scored in double figures through all nine games this season. His 17.3 points per game average leads Villanova as do his 33 assists (3.7 apg).

~ Tuesday night's victory was the 497th in Jay Wright's tenure as VU head coach (2001-present). Of those wins, 240 have come since the start of the 2013-14 season. Wright, who was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in September, earned 257 wins through his first 12 seasons.

~ This is Villanova's 10th game of 2021-22 and its seventh appearance at a road or neutral venue. Next up is one more road trip, this one to open BIG EAST regular season play, Friday night at Creighton (8 p.m./FS1 and VU iHeart Radio Network).

A Good Night on Broadway

A terrific second half, sparked by a dominant performance on the glass, carried Villanova to a 67-53 victory over Syracuse at the Jimmy V Classic Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden. The Wildcats trailed the Orange 29-26 at intermission before grabbing the lead midway through the second half and pulling away in the final minutes.

Junior Justin Moore led Villanova with 18 points and six caroms. Graduate student Jermaine Samuels became a big second half story, finishing with 13 points and nine rebounds.

On the night, the 'Cats owned a 57-36 edge on the backboards. Six different Wildcats collected at least six caroms.

"This was a great college basketball atmosphere," stated Villanova head coach Jay Wright said of a crowd of 14,343. "To feel this place rocking, to see all that Syracuse Orange in there felt like old times. Our guys really enjoyed that. I could feel it the first time I walked out to the court.

"Syracuse is a really explosive offensive team. They have so many weapons. I was really proud of our second half effort. We struggled in the first half in the first half with their zone and we struggled making shots. Our defensive effort in the second half was outstanding. Justin and Jermaine gave us offense but defensively and on the glass they were great."

The game's first 4:13 featured some long-distance marksmanship, with each team draining a trio of 3-point field goals. The Orange held a 12-11 lead at the game's first official timeout.

Syracuse, leaning on its length in an extended 2-3 zone, held Villanova without a field goal for more than seven minutes midway through the period to establish a 22-17 lead before a Moore 3-pointer ended the drought. Some good work on the glass and three free throws by graduate student Dhamir Cosby-Roundtree brought the Wildcats into a 24-24 tie with just more than two minutes to play in the first half.

The Orange used a 5-2 mini-spurt to close the half to take a 29-26 lead into the locker room at intermission.

Both teams could point to their defense as a positive. Villanova remained within striking distance largely because of its grit. The Wildcats held the Orange to .393 shooting from the field and forced seven turnovers. However, Syracuse's defense was a touch better, holding the Wildcats to 9-of-37 shooting from the field in the first half, including 5-of-28 from beyond the 3-point arc.

Moore's nine points paced Nova while Jimmy Boenheim's 11 points were tops for the Orange over the first 20 minutes.

The Wildcats found a smoother offensive flow to open the second half, dropping in 5-of-8 to open the period to grab a 37-36 lead at the 15:56 mark. A pair of 3-pointers from Caleb Daniels helped VU forge a tie game at 43 seven minutes into the period.

Villanova constructed a spurt midway through the period, capped by a 3-pointer by Samuels that gave the 'Cats a 55-47 lead with just under eight minutes to play in the second half. Syracuse, though, scored the next four points to cut its deficit to 55-51.

But the Wildcats finished on a 12-2 burst, snuffing any hope of an Orange rally, to up their record to 7-2 overall. Syracuse fell to 5-4 overall.

"Rebounding is an area we have struggled with at times," said Wright. "We've been getting better over the last couple of games and we knew this was going to be a test. That (rebounding) was big because in the first half we couldn't make a shot. Offensive rebounding kept us in the game."

Villanova ended the night with 27 offensive caroms.

Its 50 3-point attempts were the most-ever by a Villanova team.

"We're fortunate that we get to play in a game like this," stated Wright. "It was a special night and it was great to do this in support of the V Foundation."

NET News

The NCAA began releasing its daily updates of the national NET rankings this week. Through games of Dec. 7, Villanova ranked 5th in the country. It is 1-2 vs. Quadrant 1, 3-0 vs. Quadrant 3 and 3-0 vs. Quadrant 4. It has yet to face a Quadrant 3 foe.

NEWS AND NOTES

KenPom Metrics

A look at Villanova's numbers in the Advanced Statistical evaluation done by Ken Pomeroy at kenpom.com finds some impressive indicators.

The Wildcats, as of Dec. 9, are ranked sixth in the kenpom system at +25.89. On the offensive end their rating of 118.3 points per 100 possessions stands fourth nationally. At the defensive end their 92.4 points per 100 possession number is listed at No. 35 nationally.

Baylor sits at No. 3 in the most recent kenpom evaluation prior to the completion of these notes. The Bears are the fourth Top 12 kenpom team the Wildcats have faced thus far in 2021-22. Villanova suffered an overtime loss at No. 8 UCLA last month and an 80-74 defeat to No. 2 Purdue at the Hall of Fame Tipoff Classic in Uncasville, Conn. VU knocked off No. 12 Tennessee in the same Hall of Fame event in Connecticut.

Justin Time

Junior guard Justin Moore was selected second team Preseason All-BIG EAST and the Maryland native is a key cog for the Wildcats.

In two games last week at Penn's fabled Palestra Moore endured a bit of a shooting slump. In wins over La Salle and Penn, Moore connected on 6-of-20 field goal attempts, including 2-of-10 from beyond the 3-point arc. (He did tie a career high with 11 rebounds against the Quakers).

After a scoreless first half in a Dec. 4 victory over Saint Joseph's, Moore has bounced back in a major way at the offensive end. Over the last three halves the Wildcats have played, the 6-4 guard is 13-of-26 from the floor and 6-of-16 from distance. His 18 points led Villanova in Tuesday night's win.

For the season, Moore averages 15.7 points and 5.4 rebounds per outing. It's also noteworthy that over his last three games he has averaged 8.0 rebounds per outing.

"I'm really proud of him," said Wright. "He wasn't making shots for a couple of games, but I thought he was dominant in the Penn game even without shots falling. Justin's our best defender. We don't talk about it a lot because we play a lot of good team defense. But we always put him on the (opponents') best player, and he carries it a lot of responsibility."

Handle With Care

Villanova leads the BIG EAST in Assist-to-Turnover ratio at 1.7 per game. The Wildcats' two primary ballhandlers, Gillespie and Moore, rank first and fourth respectively in individual assist-to-turnover ratio.

One reason for Tuesday night's turnaround is that Nova committed an uncharacteristic eight first half turnovers but only two more over the final 20 minutes.

Finn Facts

Villanova's campus home court is Finneran Pavilion. The original facility opened in 1986 and was renovated during the 2017-18 basketball season.

The lead gift for the $65 million transformation was made by the late William B. Finneran, for whom the facility was renamed in 2018.

The Wildcats are 321-64 (.833) in the building all-time and currently own a 27-game winning streak in the Finn. The last home court loss on campus came on Nov. 17, 2018, a 76-68 overtime defeat to Furman. The Wildcats are 28-2 in the facility since it reopened as Finneran Pavilion in 2018-19.

Following a one-year hiatus due to COVID-19, Villanova returns to host three games this season at the Wells Fargo Center, beginning Jan. 16 vs. Butler.

Dhamir's Back

Since Dhamir Cosby-Roundtree returned to the active roster - he missed all of 2020-21 and the first five games of '21-22 due to recurring shin issues - the Wildcats are 4-0. The Philadelphia native contributed three points and six boards vs. Syracuse.

NEWS AND NOTES

Highly Rated Recruits

Villanova has announced the signing of a trio of prep standouts to national letters of intent. Guards Mark Armstrong (South Orange, N.J.) and Brendan Hausen (Amarillo, Tex.) along with forward Cam Whitmore (Severn, Md.) are set to join the Wildcats in the fall of 2022.

“We’re excited to welcome Mark, Brendan and Cam to the Villanova family,” stated Wildcats’ head coach Jay Wright.

Armstrong, 6-2, is an elite guard from St. Peter’s (N.J.) Prep who made a verbal pledge to Villanova in April 2021. In a 2020-21 campaign limited to 11 games due to COVID-19, Armstrong averaged 14.1 points per game and moved past the 1,000 point plateau in January. His is listed at No. 39 in the Class of 2022 by 247sports.com.

“Mark is part of a wonderful family that we’re happy to welcome to Villanova,” stated Wright. “As a consummate point guard, Mark really understands how to run a team. He makes everyone on the team around him better. We believe he has what it takes to become a great Villanova guard.”

Hausen, 6-4, is best known for his shooting accuracy. The Texan is listed at No. 95 in the Class of 2022 by 247sports.com after a strong junior season. As a junior he averaged 17.6 points per game, which included 90 3-pointers. He is Amarillo High School’s all-time leading scorer and gave his verbal commitment to Villanova in September.

“Brendan is a pure shooter, tough competitor, and proven winner,” stated Wright. “As we got to know Brendan and his great family through the recruiting process, we saw a young man who brings all the qualities we value in a Villanova Basketball player. We’re fired up to have Brendan at Villanova.”

Whitmore, 6-6, attends Archbishop Spalding High School in Maryland, the alma mater of former Wildcat Derrick Snowden (2000-04). This forward checks in at No. 20 in the 247sports.com rankings of the class of 2022 after earning Baltimore Catholic League Player of the Year honors in 2020-21. He averaged 22.0 points and 11.7 rebounds per contest as a junior and committed to the Wildcats in September.

“Cam comes from a wonderful family that we have enjoyed getting to know,” Wright stated. “Cam really fits Villanova. On the court, he has the skills and talent to become a complete player who does everything well. We’re extremely excited to welcome Cam to the Villanova Basketball Family.”

Health Check

Villanova has been without junior guard Bryan Antoine since the final week in September, when he suffered a patella injury to his knee. He has not yet returned to practice and head coach Jay Wright said recently Antoine’s return to game action is still a matter “of weeks”.

A non-COVID virus impacted the Wildcats’ roster following the Thanksgiving break. Freshman guard Jordan Longino missed games at La Salle and Penn due to the illness before returning vs. Saint Joseph’s on Dec. 4. Senior guard Caleb Daniels was not in uniform for the Saint Joseph’s game due to the same illness. The New Orleans native returned to add 11 points and seven rebounds in a 67-53 win over Syracuse on Dec. 7.

In 20 seasons as Villanova’s William B. Finneran Endowed Head Coach, Jay Wright has guided the Wildcats to new heights, including NCAA national championships in 2016 and 2018. The Bucknell University graduate (1983) was enshrined on Sept. 11, 2021 in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Villanova has posted 233 victories in the past eight seasons, an average of 29.1 per year. In 2020-21 the Wildcats overcame three COVID pauses and a season-ending knee injury to co-BIG EAST Player of the Year Collin Gillespie to post an 18-7 overall record. Along the way, the Wildcats captured their seventh BIG EAST regular season crown since 2013 and were ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 every week of the '20-21 campaign.

In January 2020, Wright was named the Associated Press men’s college basketball Coach of the Decade.

In 2017-18, the Wildcats amassed a school record 36 victories and secured Villanova’s third NCAA national championship with a 79-62 victory over Michigan on April 2, 2018. Jalen Brunson became Villanova’s first consensus National Player of the Year in the modern era, joining Paul Arizin as the only VU players to earn that distinction. In 2016, Villanova defeated North Carolina 77-74 when Kris Jenkins drained a 3-pointer at the buzzer to cap a 35-5 campaign with an NCAA national title.

Villanova products have made their mark in the NBA in the past two decades, including six-time NBA All-Star Kyle Lowry. Saddiq Bey became the most recent first round NBA Draft choice as the 19th overall selection in the 2020 Draft on his way to the Detroit Pistons. On the coaching side, former Wildcats staff members Joe Jones (Boston University), Baker Dunleavy (Quinnipiac), Ashley Howard (La Salle), and Kyle Neptune (Fordham) are now Division I head coaches.
